

Usability study in the context of the use of European Legislation Identifier (ELI)

This usability study has been undertaken in the frame of the ELI action with the support of ISA<sup>2</sup>. ISA<sup>2</sup> is a EUR 131 million programme of the European Commission which develops digital solutions that enable interoperable cross-border and cross-sector public services for the benefit of public administrations, businesses and citizens across the EU (https://ec.europa.eu/isa2/actions/facilitating-exchange-legislation-data-europe\_en).

ISA<sup>2</sup> supports a large range of actions and solutions. The ISA<sup>2</sup> solutions can be used free of charge and are open source when related to IT.

Context and objectives

- This usability study was undertaken on the initiative of the ELI Taskforce and coordinated by the Publications Office. For more information on the ELI initiative see: <http://eurlex.europa.eu/eli>
- The purpose of this usability study was to gain deeper insight into the needs of national legal information system users regarding access to information on transposition of EU legislation.
- The study should identify users, their requirements and expectations.
- It should also determine what enhancements, building on ELI implementations, could be developed to meet usability interests.
- This information should provide national legislation publishers with information on user needs and possibilities for use of ELI to support these needs.

Phase 1: Research

Interview & Survey

■ Interviews

- A maximum of 15 interviews
  1. Stakeholders in the ELI programme
  2. Users
- Collect insights on:
  - Main goals of implementing ELI on the national websites
  - User profiles
  - Required information
  - Available information now
  - User requirements <> ELI

■ A user survey on the national websites

- 4 questions:
  - Reason to visit the website/webpage
  - Profile questions
  - Knowledge about ELI
  - Recruiting for future user tests

User survey questions

- When looking up information on a national law, what information relating to this transposition would you like to find on our website?
- When researching European directives, what transposition information would interest you?
- What could this transposition information help you to achieve? Or what extra insights might this provide?
- When looking for transposition information now, do you:
  - usually start from the European directive, wanting to find out if it has been transposed by a national law?
  - usually start from a specific national law, wanting to find out if it transposes some EU legislation?
- Profile question

Phase 2: PERSONAS

Persona 1

➤ Quick stats

- Occupation: Member of judiciary
- EUR-Lex use: 3 times a week
- User level: Advanced
- Country: Slovenia

➤ About

- This person works at the Supreme Court of Slovenia. It is really important for her to understand the European regulations. That is why she does comparative studies of the transpositions of other countries that have a similar legal system to Slovenia, mainly Germany and Austria.

I like to start my research on a European level, because it's easy to find all the transposed legislation from there.

➤ Goals

1. Both the directive itself and the transposed legislation are important.
2. Understand European rules

➤ Actions

Searches national implementations using:

1. 'National Implementing Measures' on EUR-Lex;
2. information stored in the directive itself;
3. the title of the transposed act to search in Google or on the national legal information systems.

➤ Expectation

1. A multilingual interface would be great.
2. Detailed information on transposition would be useful.

Persona 2

➤ Quick stats

- Occupation: Governmental
- EUR-Lex use: Daily
- User level: Advanced
- Country: Portugal

➤ About

- This person has a law degree and works for the customs office.
Because she's dealing with border issues every day, it is really important for her to have easy access to other countries' legislation.

Sometimes it's easier to just google than to use EUR-Lex or Curia

➤ Goals

1. To understand a European directive
2. To see how a directive has been implemented in different countries and how that law is being treated.

➤ Actions

1. First uses Google. With the results from Google she can look for the right content on EUR-Lex or on Curia.
2. Checking national laws one by one to find out from which EU directive they have been transposed. Because she can't find that information in a centralised way.

➤ Expectation

1. To have access to each national law in a common language to compare
2. To get access to transpositions from one central point

Persona 3

➤ Quick stats

- Occupation: Legal Deputy Director in private sector
- EUR-Lex use: Often
- User level: Advanced
- Country: Italia

➤ About

- This person is a legal director in a pharmaceutical company and releases a legal opinion in the matter of public procurement and public tenders.

Italian law has jurisprudence contradicting national legislation, because transposition was badly done.

➤ Goals

1. Primary goal: to find if, what, when and mainly how a directive was transposed into national law
2. Compare Italian legislation with other transpositions and with the original directive to check the legitimacy of the Italian legislation

➤ Actions

Finds the reference of the transposed directive in the Italian legislation and uses this to search the directive using Google.

➤ Expectation

1. To be able – in one click – to see if the directive has been transposed in other countries.
2. Have a direct link to the national websites or to EUR-Lex.

Persona 4

➤ Quick stats

- Occupation: Law librarian
- EUR-Lex use: Couple of times per month
- User level: Advanced
- Country: Ireland

➤ About

- This person is a librarian for a law firm in Ireland. Her main duty is to maintain the firms' library collection. She also assists the legal staff with research queries and request and notifies them when new legislation has been passed.

If we cannot find the Irish transposition, we'll look in the UK to see how it has been transposed there.

➤ Goals

1. Find how a particular directive has been transposed into Irish law
2. If a directive hasn't been transposed into Irish law yet, check how it has been transposed in other countries, e.g. UK

➤ Actions

1. Uses WestLaw UK (a subscription database) to search European law
2. Looks for directives on a European level starting from national legislation

➤ Expectation

1. A link to all transpositions and the date of transposition.
2. To see how other Member States – particularly the UK – have transposed the directive.

Persona 5

➤ Quick stats

- Occupation: Academic
- EUR-Lex use: Depends on the project but not on a daily basis
- User level: Advanced
- Country: Austria

➤ About

- This person is a legal assistant who works in the field of European Law. He is also working as a research assistant. Both of his jobs require that he checks other countries' legislation and whether the European directive has been transposed or implemented correctly.

What I cannot do is to see which part of the Austrian law is transposed from which part of the directive.

➤ Goals

1. Primary goal: to know if a certain directive has been implemented by countries
2. Compare the original directive with the national transposition

➤ Actions

1. Start from the national database when he looks for Austrian law or French law
2. But for all the other legislation and countries, he will definitively start from EUR-Lex

➤ Expectation

1. It would be really helpful to have a direct link from the European directive to the national database.
2. It would be good to have detailed transposition information.

Questions

1. Changes in legislation

1.1 Where could you find links to previous versions of this piece of legislation?

2. Appreciation

2.1 As you can see, this concept contains the same information as the second prototype. Do you think there are advantages to either the second or the third prototype?

2.2.1 Usability test participant 1 - prototype 1 - full version

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I see the table of contents
1.2				I will use it to access an article directly
2.1				Find the information in the 'document information' tab: status
2.2				Go directly to 'changes in legislation'
3.1				Find the information in the 'document information'
3.2				He think it's an identification number
4.1				Find the information but it could be more clear
4.2				N/A
4.3				N/A
5.1				Go directly to 'browse related doc'
5.2				I will find various national laws that implement this EU directive
6.1				I'm quite happy with the current website. I miss some information in the prototype like other national laws based on the EU directive

2.2.2 Usability test participant 1 - prototype 2 - quick win

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1	Green	Green	Green	It's better to have it on the top
2.1	Green	Green	Green	I can see it thanks to the status
3.1	Orange	Orange	Orange	Could not find the 'see more' button
4.1	Green	Green	Green	Can tell it's an implementation of an EU directive
4.2	Orange	Orange	Orange	I prefer to have it load in the same page
4.3	Orange	Orange	Orange	Don't see that there are two different links
5.1	Green	Green	Green	I don't mind that it opens a new window
6.1	Yellow	Yellow	Yellow	The first concept is more appealing

2.2.3 Usability test participant 1- prototype 3 - widget

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				Find directly the previous version of the law
2.1				There are advantages to the 3 rd prototype because it will be easier for the people to adjust quickly

■ Quick stats

- Occupation: Project management
- Website use: Daily
- Country: Romania

■ About

- I'm an environmental specialist. I am also finalising law school. I'm interested in legal issues regarding environmental matters particularly about protected areas. I work with different national websites. I also make considerable use of the European Court of Justice website and idrept.ro

➤ General appreciation

- The first thing I want to see is the date and if it's the last version
- I would like to be able to compare changes in legislation
- I would like to see practical cases and decisions based on this piece of legislation
- I would like to see what has changed in the law with all the extra info (like the date)
- I would like to have a print and save in pdf button
- I would like to see how a directive has been transposed in other countries

➤ Podium

1. Prototype 1 - Full version
2. Prototype 3 - Widget
3. Prototype 2 - Quick win

2.3.1 Usability test participant 2 - prototype 1 - full version

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1	Green	Green	Green	I see the table of contents
1.2	Grey	Grey	Grey	N/A
2.1	Orange	Green	Yellow	First goes to 'document information' then in 'changes in legislation'
2.2	Green	Green	Yellow	Go directly to 'changes in legislation'. But would like to see each version next to each other to easily compare them.
3.1	Orange	Orange	Yellow	Did not find the information. She will go to the end of the document. But it's just a matter of time to get use to the new navigation.
3.2	Orange	Orange	Orange	Did not know what ELI is
4.1	Orange	Orange	Yellow	Did not find the information. It should be more clear
4.2	Orange	Orange	Orange	Yes and no because in Romania all law is transposed
4.3	Green	Green	Green	Expect to be redirected to EUR-Lex
5.1	Green	Green	Green	Go directly to 'browse related doc'
5.2	Green	Green	Green	I will find subsequence of the EU directive
6.1	Yellow	Yellow	Yellow	It would be helpful. But it will be more credible if it's on the EU website rather than on the Romanian website.

2.3.2 Usability test participant 2 - prototype 2 - quick win

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1	Green	Green	Yellow	It's better to have table of contents fixed to access it all the time. But I like the fact that the font size is bigger.
2.1	Green	Green	Yellow	I can see it thanks to the status. But it could be clearer
3.1	Green	Green	Green	Find directly the 'see more' button
4.1	Green	Green	Green	Can tell it's an implementation of an EU directive
4.2	Grey	Grey	Grey	N/A
4.3	Grey	Grey	Grey	N/A
5.1	Green	Green	Green	I prefer that it opens a new window
6.1	Yellow	Yellow	Yellow	The first concept is better because it's not too loaded with information. You can close or open information

2.3.3 Usability test participant 2 - prototype 3 - widget

➤ Podium

1. Prototype 3 - Widget
2. Prototype 1 - Full version
3. Prototype 2 - Quick win

2.4.1 Usability test participant 3 - prototype 1 - full

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I see the table of contents
1.2				I will use the 'find function' to find the find what I'm looking for in the law.
2.1				Find the information in the 'changes in legislation'. I'm confident it's the last version because the date is 2016
2.2				Go directly to 'changes in legislation'.
3.1				Did not find the information. He will go to the end of the document.
3.2				Maybe an identification number. But he's not sure.
4.1				It could be but he's not sure
4.2				This article has been transposed by this directive
4.3				Expect to be redirected to EUR-Lex
5.1				Go directly to 'browse related doc'
5.2				This directive was transposed into 55 other national laws
6.1				Yes it will be helpful. I like this one because it has the two levels: national law and EU.

2.4.2 Usability test participant 3 - prototype 2 - quick

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1	Orange	Orange	Orange	The previous was better because you don't have to scroll back to get to the table of contents
2.1	Orange	Orange	Yellow	I cannot see at a first glance
3.1	Green	Green	Green	Find directly the information and the 'see more' button
4.1	Yellow	Yellow	Yellow	I think it is transposed because it looks similar to the EUR-Lex website
4.2	Green	Green	Green	I like to have two different windows. I can simultaneously switch from one window to another. It's more functional but less aesthetic
4.3	Yellow	Yellow	Yellow	I don't need both links. Link to EUR-Lex will be enough.
5.1	Green	Green	Green	I prefer that it opens a new window
6.1	Yellow	Yellow	Yellow	The first concept is more appealing. It has something new

2.4.3 Usability test participant 3 - prototype 3 - widget

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				Find directly the previous version of the law
2.1				The 3 rd prototype is more user friendly because you can hide it if you don't need it

2.5 Usability test participant 4

■ Quick stats

- Occupation: Legal advisor
- Website use: Almost on a daily basis
- Country: Denmark

■ About

- I'm working for a consultancy company on chemical legislation and product safety. For my job I have to find out if we have national legislation on specific matters and if other countries have the same legislation

➤ General appreciation

- I would like to have the details of the transposition

➤ Podium

1. Prototype 2 - Quick win
2. Prototype 3 - Widget
3. Prototype 1 - Full version

2.5.1 Usability test participant 4 - prototype 1 - full

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I see the index and the order
1.2				I will look for the link and try to go to the part of the text I'm looking for
2.1				Find the information in the 'document information' tab: status > applicable. But I would prefer the label 'current' to 'applicable'
2.2				Go directly to 'changes in legislation'.
3.1				Find the information in the 'document information'.
3.2				I suppose this refers to an EU directive. Or is it a code?
4.1				I'm not sure. I would find this information at the bottom of the text.
4.2				I have often looked for that feature but I don't understand the label 'transposition measure'
4.3				Expect to be redirected to EUR-Lex
5.1				Go directly to 'browse related doc' . But I'm not sure of the label 'decisions'
5.2				I really like this page. It shows all the documents which implement the directive or a part of it.
6.1				Yes it certainly would

2.5.2 Usability test participant 4 - prototype 2 - quick

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I prefer at the top because it's what I'm used to. But as long as it's there it's OK for me.
2.1				Find it with the status. I like the fact that I don't have to click on it to see the information
3.1				Find directly the information and the 'see more' button
4.1				Can tell it's an implementation of an EU directive
4.2				N/A
4.3				I don't need both link. Link to EUR-Lex will be enough
5.1				I prefer that it opens a new window. Because I can switch to a different document without messing the original document.
6.1				I like this one better

2.5.3 Usability test participant 4 - prototype 3 - widget

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				Find directly the previous version of the law
2.1				It's very good to get the info in my own language or in English

2.6 Usability test participant 5

■ Quick stats

- Occupation: Librarian
- Website use: Daily
- Country: Luxembourg

■ About

- I work for a law firm as a librarian.
It is quite essential for my job to find up-to-date laws for Luxembourg and the EU.

➤ General appreciation

- It would be nice to highlight as well the part of the directive which is implemented
- It would be very nice to have access to related case-law like in EUR-Lex

➤ Podium

1. Prototype 1 - Full version
2. Prototype 3 - Widget
3. Prototype 2 - Quick win

2.6.1 Usability test participant 4 - prototype 1 - full

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1	Green	Green	Green	I see the the table of contents
1.2	Green	Green	Green	It will help me navigate in the document
2.1	Green	Green	Yellow	I would look at the top to see if it's a consolidated version
2.2	Green	Green	Green	Go directly to 'changes in legislation'. It could be nice to have the period of effectiveness (but it doesn't have to)
3.1	Orange	Orange	Orange	Did not find the information
3.2	Orange	Orange	Orange	I have no clue
4.1	Yellow	Yellow	Yellow	Did not find it right away
4.2	Green	Orange	Green	Did not understand the label 'transposition measure'
4.3	Green	Green	Green	Expect to be redirected to EUR-Lex
5.1	Green	Green	Green	Go directly to 'browse related doc'.
5.2	Green	Green	Yellow	I'm a little bit confused by the label under the date
6.1	Green	Green	Green	It will definitively be helpful particularly with the highlight and related document

2.6.2 Usability test participant 4 - prototype 2 - quick

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I don't care
2.1				It doesn't tell me it is obsolete so it should be the latest version
3.1				Find directly the information and the 'see more' button
4.1				Can tell it's an implementation of an EU directive. Because there are links to the EU directive.
4.2				N/A
4.3				It's dangerous to have both because the text might not be the last version.
5.1				I prefer that it opens in the same window
6.1				I like the first one better because it's all linked to each other and you navigate in the same page

2.6.3 Usability test participant 4 - prototype 3 - widget

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				Find directly the previous version of the law
2.1				I like it because I could easily find the information on other national websites

2.7 Usability test participant 5

■ Quick stats

- Occupation: Legal research
- Website use: Daily
- Country: Austria

■ About

- I'm a legal researcher at the university.
I'm comparing different settings and approaches to EU law.
I monitor how EU Law has been implemented

➤ General appreciation

- It will be even more helpful to have the reference of which part of the EU directive has been transposed
- Providing just the provision would be even better

➤ Podium

1. Prototype 2 - Quick win
2. Prototype 3 - Widget
3. Prototype 1 - Full version

2.7.1 Usability test participant 5 - prototype 1 - full

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				N/A
1.2				N/A
2.1				Find the information in the 'document information'
2.2				Go directly to 'changes in legislation'
3.1				Did not find the information
3.2				I can find it in EUR-Lex. It's a classification.
4.1				Yes. Go directly to 'link to EU directive'
4.2				Think the label is curious. I would expect to see how the directive has been transposed.
4.3				Expect to be redirected to EUR-Lex
5.1				Go directly to 'browse related doc'.
5.2				I see national measure that implement this directive
6.1				It will be helpful. That will be an improvement.

2.7.2 Usability test participant 5 - prototype 2 - quick

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				At first glance it's better. But I don't mind having it on the left. What's weird is having the information on the left.
2.1				Yes because it's applicable
3.1				Find directly the information and the 'see more' button
4.1				Can tell it's an implementation of an EU directive.
4.2				N/A
4.3				The link to EUR-Lex should be enough
5.1				I don't mind
6.1				I like the second concept better because I don't have to open the menu

2.7.3 Usability test participant 5 - prototype 3 - widget

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				Find directly the previous version of the law
2.1				It depends on who your target group is. It would definitively be helpful to have a similar tool from one national website to another.

■ Quick stats

- Occupation: Lawyer
- Website use: It depends on the case I'm working on
- Country: Italy

■ About

- I'm a tax litigator lawyer in Italy. I sometimes look for measures of implementation, sometimes I just want to compare implementations.

➤ General appreciation

- I would like to have access to an English translation of the national law

➤ Podium

1. Prototype 1 - Full version
2. Prototype 2 - Quick win
3. Prototype 3 - Widget

2.8.1 Usability test participant 6 - prototype 1 - full

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I see the the summary of the law
1.2				I usually read the whole document but it will help me navigate in it
2.1				Go directly to 'changes in legislation'. Yes I'm sure it's the latest version.
2.2				Go directly to 'changes in legislation'.
3.1				Find it directly in 'document information'
3.2				Don't know what it is
4.1				I think so because there is a transposition date
4.2				I think it's the initial piece of the legislation at the EU level
4.3				Expect to be redirected to EUR-Lex
5.1				Go directly to 'browse related doc'
5.2				Those are the rules and provisions related to the main order
6.1				For me it would be more useful to see it for other countries

2.8.2 Usability test participant 6 - prototype 2 - quick

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I like this one better because it's more organised
2.1				Yes because there is no subsequent amendment. But it was clearer in the first prototype.
3.1				Find directly the information and the 'see more' button
4.1				Can tell it's an implementation of an EU directive.
4.2				I don't care. But I miss the comparison tool.
4.3				One link will be enough. I don't care if it's the text or the link to EUR-Lex.
5.1				I don't mind
6.1				I like the first one better because the layout is clearer and it gives extra info

2.8.3 Usability test participant 6 - prototype 3 - widget

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				Find directly the previous version of the law
2.1				I don't like it because it doesn't provide the translation

2.9 Usability test participant 7

■ Quick stats

- Occupation: Librarian
- Website use: Daily
- Country: Ireland

■ About

- I'm collecting information to manage internal database.

I keep an eye on all legal developments in Ireland and the EU. And I summarise the legislation and analyse the impact of developments on various groups.

I maintain the know-how system of my department.

➤ General appreciation

- I would like to be able to click on Art. 2 and see a history of what happens for this article.
- What would be nice would be to be able to see all the changes that have been applied to each article

➤ Podium

1. Prototype 2 - Quick win
2. Prototype 1 - Full version
3. Prototype 3 - Widget

2.9.1 Usability test participant 7 - prototype 1 - full

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I see the the table of contents
1.2				It depends whether I know which article I'm looking for.
2.1				Go to 'changes in legislation'. That is helpful.
2.2				I will use our one database
3.1				Don't go to document information. Look in the text to find this information. Don't understand the menu on the left. Think the label 'document information' is too generic.
3.2				I don't need the ELI number for my work. Dates are more important.
4.1				Yes because you have links to EU directive
4.2				I don't understand what 'transposition measure' is. But it will be very helpful to have this information.
4.3				Expect to go to the official version of the EU directive
5.1				Go directly to 'browse related doc'.
5.2				I assumed that is how the directive was transposed into other law
6.1				Yes definitely, the more information the better

2.9.2 Usability test participant 7 - prototype 2 - quick

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I like this one better
2.1				Yes because of what you see in changes in legislation
3.1				Go to look at the bottom of the text. And I will need to make some research here.
4.1				It's an implementation of an EU directive, because there is a transposition date.
4.2				I would prefer it to open a new page
4.3				EUR-Lex will be more helpful
5.1				N/A
6.1				I like this one better because all the information is available

2.9.3 Usability test participant 7 - prototype 3 - widget

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				N/A
2.1				I like the second approach better

2.10 Usability test participant 8

■ Quick stats

- Occupation: Researcher
- Website use: Daily
- Country: Austria

■ About

- I'm working as a researcher in the food industry. I make formulations of new products and I'm in charge of the legal information that appears on the packaging. So I have to know what the limit for the different ingredients are .
I use different national websites and Eur-Lex.

➤ General appreciation

- It could be nice to have headline next to article to find quickly what you're looking for.
- The most important feature will be related document and changes in legislation and the consolidated text.
- It's nice to have the document information visible at first sight.

➤ Podium

1. Prototype 3 - Widget
2. Prototype 1 - Full version
3. Prototype 2 - Quick win

2.10.1 Usability test participant 8 - prototype 1 - full

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				I see the table of contents of the different pieces of the legislation
1.2				It depends if I know which part I'm looking for. But if I'm looking for information in Art. 25 then it would be quite handy, but it will need a headline.
2.1				Go directly to 'document information'. Yes I'm sure it's the last version because the status is applicable
2.2				Go directly to 'changes in legislation'
3.1				Find it directly in 'document information'
3.2				It's the number of the directive
4.1				I think so because you have a European number (ELI)
4.2				I'm not sure
4.3				Expect to be redirected to EU directive in EUR-Lex
5.1				Go directly to 'browse related doc'.
5.2				It looks like of other legislation based on the directive
6.1				Yes it look quiet simple and direct. And it's really user friendly. Most of the time the Austrian transposition is a translation of the EU directive.

2.10.2 Usability test participant 8- prototype 2 - quick

nb	time	help	frustration
1.1				I prefer to have it on the right to keep it visible when I scroll
2.1				Yes because it as the status applicable
3.1				First scroll down then find the "see more btn"
4.1				N/A
4.2				N/A
4.3				One link will be enough and I will prefer to have the EUR-Lex link, because then I can have the information in different language and I can download pdf.
5.1				I would prefer to have it in the same interface. It would be ok to be redirected to another website if I'm familiar with the website where I'm redirected.
6.1				I would like to have a combination of those two

2.10.3 Usability test participant 8 - prototype 3 -

NB	Time	Help	Frustration
1.1				Click directly on 'changes in legislation'
2.1				It's nice to be able to minimise it

Result summary

Result summary

■ There is not an obvious winner that stands out

- 1st position with 11 points*: Prototype 3 - widget
- 2nd position with 9 points*: Prototype 1 - full version
- 3rd position with 7 points*: Prototype 2 - quick win

* When prototype is in 1st place it gets 2 points, in 2nd place it gets 1 point and in 3rd place 0 points.

Recommendation

4.1 General recommendation

- The widget (prototype 3) could be a good option as:
  - it doesn't interfere with the actual Member State legislative portal;
  - it will be easily implemented by the Member States;
  - it keeps consistency between the different Member State portals and therefore makes it easier for the user to look for the information;
  - it could be developed by the Commission and handed over to Member States which will just add the widget to their existing websites.

4.2 Modification to improve the prototype

- In the three prototypes:
  - Make it more visible that it's the latest (applicable) version;
  - Make it more clear that it's a transposition from a EU directive;
  - Provide additional information about ELI;
  - Only keep the link to EUR-Lex in 'links to EU directive'.
- In prototype 1 - Full version:
  - Change label of 'transposed measure';
  - Change the radio button in button in 'changes in legislation' and 'browse related doc';
  - Add a button for subsequent amendments and make it disabled if there are none;
  - Make the document information visible at first sight;
  - Create a tour widget to quickly show the functionalities of the prototype.
- In prototype 2 - Quick win:
  - Make the 'see more button' more visible

4.3 Other features request

- Multi-lingual widget
- Law translation at least in English
- History for each article
- Advanced comparison tool:
  - Compare changes for a specific article
  - Compare one article with the related EU directive article
  - Compare a national law article to another country law article
- Have access to practical cases and decisions based on this piece of legislation
